Project: ARAPAIMA - Production Networks

Project Manager: Operação Amazônia Nativa - OPAN

IMPACT Sustainable Production Component (1)

Activities that maintain the forest standing are economically attractive on Indigenous Lands (TIs) and nature's Conservation Units (CUs) in the southwestern region of the state of Amazonas

IMPACT Land Use Planning Component (3)

Indigenous Lands (TIs) in the southwestern region of the state of Amazonas follow land-use planning policies

OUTCOME (1.1)

Economic activities for sustainable use of forest and biodiversity developed in 7 Indigenous Lands (TIs) and 3 nature's Conservation Units (CUs) in the southwestern region of the Amazonas State

OUTCOME (1.2)

Agroforestry and biodiversity production chains with value-added by industrial processing in two CUs in the southwestern region of the Amazonas State

OUTCOME (1.3)

Expanded managerial and technical capabilities for the development of good practices in sustainable production chains and the organization and management of associations in TIs and UCs in the southwestern region of the Amazonas State

OUTCOME (3.2)

Indigenous Land at Rio Biá with consolidated management

OUTPUT

Fostering and structuring of sustainable management of the pirarucu fish

OUTPUT

Fostering and structuring of sustainable management of non-wood forest products

OUTPUT

Implementation of two preprocessing units (extraction) of vegetable oils

OUTPUT

Institutionally strengthening of two indigenous associations and two extractivist producers associations

OUTPUT

Training in sustainable management of fishing and non-wood forest products

OUTPUT

Holding of workshops on community organization, associations, cooperatives and project management

OUTPUT

Drawing up and carrying out a territorial surveillance plan for the Katukina ethnic group on Indigenous Land at Rio Biá